Orders; Dismissal

DECISION¹

On September 14, 2011, Petitioners filed a petition for Vaccine Compensation in the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (“the Program”),² alleging that their child, B.B.B., was injured by a vaccine or vaccines listed on the Vaccine Injury Table. See § 14. On October 7, 2013, Petitioners were ordered to file a status report by December 3, 2014, concerning their progress toward obtaining the opinion of a medical expert. Petitioners did not respond to that order.

² The Program comprises Part 2 of the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755, codified as amended, 42 U.S.C. §§ 300aa-10 et seq.

I issued an Order on December 17, 2013, ordering Petitioners to file a status report by December 23, 2013, updating the court on their progress toward obtaining the report of a medical expert. Again, Petitioners did not respond to that Order. On January 8, 2014, I issued an Order to Show Cause, within thirty days, why this case should not be dismissed for failure to prosecute. The order was sent to Petitioners' address of record by certified mail. Petitioners did not respond to that order.

THE OMNIBUS AUTISM PROCEEDING (“OAP”)

This case is one of more than 5,400 cases filed under the Program in which petitioners alleged that conditions known as “autism” or “autism spectrum disorders” [“ASD”] were caused by one or more vaccinations. A detailed history of the controversy regarding vaccines and autism, along with a history of the development of the OAP, was set forth in the six entitlement decisions issued by three special masters as “test cases” for two theories of causation litigated in the OAP and will not be repeated here.³

Ultimately, the Petitioners' Steering Committee [“PSC”], an organization formed by attorneys representing petitioners in the OAP, litigated six test cases presenting two different theories on the causation of ASDs. The first theory alleged that the measles portion of the measles, mumps, rubella vaccine could cause ASDs. That theory was presented in three separate Program test cases during several weeks of trial in 2007. The second theory alleged that the mercury contained in thimerosal-containing vaccines could directly affect an infant's brain, thereby substantially contributing to the causation of ASD. That theory was presented in three additional test cases during several weeks of trial in 2008.

(hereinafter “Vaccine Act” or “the Act”). Hereafter, individual section references will be to 42 U.S.C. § 300aa of the Act.

³ The Theory 1 cases are Cedillo v. HHS, No. 98-916V, 2009 WL 331968 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 12, 2009); Hazlehurst v. HHS, No. 03-654V, 2009 WL 332306 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 12, 2009); Snyder v. HHS, No. 01-162V, 2009 WL 332044 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 12, 2009). The Theory 2 cases are Dwyer v. HHS, No. 03-1202V, 2010 WL 892250 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 12, 2010); King v. HHS, No. 03-584V, 2010 WL 892296 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 12, 2010); Mead v. HHS, No. 03-215V, 2010 WL 892248 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Mar. 12, 2010).

Decisions in each of the three test cases pertaining to the PSC's first theory rejected the petitioners' causation theories. Cedillo, 2009 WL 331968, aff'd, 89 Fed. Cl. 158 (2009), aff'd, 617 F.3d 1328 (Fed. Cir. 2010); Hazlehurst, 2009 WL 332306, aff'd, 88 Fed. Cl. 473 (2009), aff'd, 604 F.3d 1343 (Fed. Cir. 2010); Snyder, 2009 WL 332044, aff'd, 88 Fed. Cl. 706 (2009).⁴ Decisions in each of the three "test cases" pertaining to the PSC's second theory also rejected the petitioners' causation theories, and petitioners in each of the three cases chose not to appeal. Dwyer, 2010 WL 892250; King, 2010 WL 892296; Mead, 2010 WL 892248. Thus, the proceedings in these six test cases are concluded. Petitioners remaining in the OAP must now decide whether to pursue their cases, and submit new evidence on causation, or take other action to exit the Program.

II

FAILURE TO PROSECUTE

It is Petitioners' duty to respond to court orders. As I reminded Petitioners in my Order of January 8, 2014, failure to follow court orders, as well as failure to file medical records or an expert medical opinion, shall result in dismissal of Petitioners' claim. Tsekouras v. Sec'y, HHS, 26 Cl. Ct. 439 (1992), aff'd per curiam, 991 F.2d 810 (Fed. Cir. 1993); Sapharas v. Sec'y, HHS, 35 Fed. Cl. 503 (1996); Vaccine Rule 21(b).

III

CAUSATION IN FACT

To receive compensation under the Program, Petitioners must prove either 1) that B.B.B. suffered a "Table Injury" – i.e., an injury falling within the Vaccine Injury Table – corresponding to one of B.B.B.'s vaccinations, or 2) that B.B.B. suffered an injury that was actually caused by a vaccine. See §§ 300aa-13(a)(1)(A) and 300aa-11(c)(1). Under the Vaccine Act, a special master cannot find that Petitioners have proven their case by a preponderance of the evidence, based upon "the claims of a Petitioner alone, unsubstantiated by medical records or by medical opinion." §300aa-13(a) (2006). Petitioners have failed to file sufficient evidence in this case. An examination of the record did not uncover any evidence that B.B.B. suffered a "Table Injury." Further, the record does not contain a medical opinion or any other persuasive evidence indicating that B.B.B.'s autism spectrum disorder was vaccine-caused.

Accordingly, it is clear from the record in this case that Petitioners have failed to demonstrate either that B.B.B. suffered a "Table Injury" or that B.B.B.'s injuries were ⁴ Petitioners in Snyder did not appeal the decision of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims.

“actually caused” by a vaccination. This case is dismissed for insufficient proof and for failure to prosecute. The clerk shall enter judgment accordingly.⁵

IT IS SO ORDERED.

⁵ This document constitutes my final “Decision” in this case, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12(d)(3)(A). If petitioner wishes to have this case reviewed by a Judge of the United States Court of Federal Claims, a motion for review of this decision must be filed within 30 days. After 30 days the Clerk of this Court shall enter judgment in accord with this decision. If petitioner wishes to preserve whatever right petitioner may have to file a civil suit (that is a law suit in another court) petitioner must file an "election to reject judgment in this case and file a civil action" within 90 days of the filing of the judgment. 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-21(a).
