RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

Dorsey, Chief Special Master:

On October 21, 2017, petitioner filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.,² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered a shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (SIRVA) and adhesive capsulitis as a result of her November 20, 2015 Prevna 13 (pneumococcal conjugate) vaccination. Petition at 1, ¶¶ 6, 15. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On March 13, 2017, respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, respondent has “concluded that petitioner suffered a non-Table injury of left-side adhesive capsulitis and that the preponderance of the medical evidence indicates that the injury was causally related to the Prevna vaccination she received on November 20, 2015.” Id. at 4. Respondent further indicates that he “did not identify any other causes for petitioner's adhesive capsulitis, and based on the medical records outlined above, petitioner met the statutory requirements by suffering the condition for more than six months." Id. Accordingly, respondent states that "based on the record as it now stands, compensation is appropriate, as petitioner has satisfied all legal prerequisites for compensation under the Act." Id.

² National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755. Hereinafter, for ease of citation, all “§” references to the Vaccine Act will be to the pertinent subparagraph of 42 U.S.C. § 300aa (2012).

In view of respondent's concession and the evidence before me, the undersigned finds that petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
