Laura Levenberg, Muller Brazil, PA, Dresher, PA, for Petitioner.

Mary Holmes, U.S. Dep't of Justice, Washington, DC, for Respondent.

DECISION GRANTING ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS¹

On June 7, 2021, Petitioner filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine and Injury Compensation Program (the "Vaccine Program").² (ECF No. 1) ("Pet."). Petitioner alleged that she suffered brachial neuritis as a result of receiving an influenza vaccine on October 7, 2019. Pet. at 1. The matter was decided via ruling on the record, and I denied entitlement. Entitlement Decision (ECF No. 32).

Petitioner has now filed a motion for a final award of attorney's fees and costs. Motion, dated June 3, 2024 (ECF No. 37) ("Final Fees Mot."). Petitioner requests a total of $40,096.83, ¹ Although I have not formally designated this Decision for publication, it will nevertheless be posted on the United States Court of Federal Claims website, in accordance with the E-Government Act of 2002, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 (2012). As provided by 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-12(d)(4)(B), however, the parties may object to the Decision's inclusion of certain kinds of confidential information. Specifically, under Vaccine Rule 18(b), each party has fourteen days within which to request redaction "of any information furnished by that party: (1) that is a trade secret or commercial or financial in substance and is privileged or confidential; or (2) that includes medical files or similar files, the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of privacy." Vaccine Rule 18(b). Otherwise, the whole Decision will be available to the public. Id.

² The Vaccine Program comprises Part 2 of the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3758, codified as amended at 42 U.S.C. §§ 300aa-10 through 34 (2012) [hereinafter "Vaccine Act" or "the Act"]. Individual section references hereafter will be to Section 300aa of the Act (but will omit the statutory prefix).

reflecting $30,096.10 in fees incurred for the services of attorney Laura Levenberg and colleagues, and $10,000.73 in costs. Final Fees Mot. at 2. Respondent reacted to the final fees request on June 3, 2024. Response, dated June 3, 2024 (ECF No. 38) (“Response”). Respondent agrees that Petitioner has satisfied the statutory requirements for a fees award, and otherwise defers the calculation of the amount to be awarded to my discretion. Response at 3-4.

For the reasons set forth below, I hereby GRANT Petitioner’s motion, awarding fees and costs in the total amount of $40,096.83.

ANALYSIS

I. Petitioner’s Claim had Reasonable Basis

Although the Vaccine Act only guarantees a fees award to successful petitioners, a special master may also award fees and costs in an unsuccessful case if: (1) the “petition was brought in good faith”; and (2) “there was a reasonable basis for the claim for which the petition was brought.” Section 15(e)(1). I have in prior decisions set forth at length the criteria to be applied when determining if a claim possessed “reasonable basis” sufficient for a fees award. See, e.g., Sterling v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 16-551V, 2020 WL 549443, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Jan. 3, 2020). Importantly, establishing reasonable basis does not automatically entitle an unsuccessful claimant to fees, but is instead a threshold obligation; fees can still thereafter be limited, if unreasonable, or even denied entirely.

A claim’s reasonable basis³ must be demonstrated through some objective evidentiary showing. Cottingham v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 971 F.3d 1337, 1344 (Fed. Cir. 2020) (citing Simmons v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 875 F.3d 632, 635 (Fed. Cir. 2017)). This objective inquiry is focused on the claim—counsel’s conduct is irrelevant (although it may bulwark good faith). Simmons, 875 F.3d at 635. In addition, reasonable basis inquiries are not static—they evaluate not only what was known at the time the petition was filed, but also take into account what is learned about the evidentiary support for the claim as the matter progresses. Perreira v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 33 F.3d 1375, 1377 (Fed. Cir. 1994) (upholding the finding that a reasonable basis for petitioners’ claims ceased to exist once they had reviewed their expert’s opinion, which consisted entirely of unsupported speculation). As a result, a claim can “lose” reasonable basis over time.

The standard for finding the existence of reasonable basis is lesser (and thus inherently easier to satisfy) than the preponderant standard applied when assessing entitlement, as cases that fail can still have sufficient objective grounding for a fees award. Braun v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 144 Fed. Cl. 72, 77 (2019). The Court of Federal Claims has affirmed that “[r]easonable basis is a standard that petitioners, at least generally, meet by submitting evidence.” Chuisano v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 116 Fed. Cl. 276, 287 (Fed. Cl. 2014) (internal quotations omitted) (affirming special master). The factual basis and medical support for the claim is among the evidence that should be considered. Carter v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 132 Fed. Cl. 372, 378 (Fed. Cl. 2017). Under the Vaccine Act, special masters have “maximum discretion” in applying the reasonable basis standard. See, e.g., Silva v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 108 Fed. Cl. 401, 401–02 (Fed. Cl. 2012).⁴

³ Because this claim’s good faith is not in dispute, I do not include a discussion of the standards applicable to that fees prong.

Petitioner’s claim was ultimately unsuccessful, but I find that there was sufficient objective basis to entitle her to a fees and costs award. Record evidence that Petitioner experienced symptoms of brachial neuritis after the relevant vaccination, coupled with some initial treater support for the diagnosis, was outweighed by evidence of a pre-vaccination onset and more likely alternative diagnosis. But that underscores the fact that some evidence existed in support of the claim. Thus, in light of the exceedingly lenient standard that governs reasonable basis determinations, a final award of fees and costs in this matter is permissible. And because I find no reason otherwise to deny a fees award, I will allow one herein.

II. Calculation of Fees

Determining the appropriate amount of the fees award is a two-part process. The first part involves application of the lodestar method - “multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation times a reasonable hourly rate.” Avera v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., 515 F.3d 1343, 1347–48 (Fed. Cir. 2008) (quoting Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 888 (1984)). The second part involves adjusting the lodestar calculation up or down to take relevant factors into consideration. Id. at 1348. This standard for calculating a fee award is considered applicable in most cases where a fee award is authorized by federal statute. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 429–37 (1983).

An attorney’s reasonable hourly rate is determined by the “forum rule,” which bases the proper hourly rate to be awarded on the forum in which the relevant court sits (Washington, D.C., for Vaccine Act cases), except where an attorney’s work was not performed in the forum and there is a substantial difference in rates (the so-called “Davis exception”). Avera, 515 F.3d at 1348 (citing Davis Cty. Solid Waste Mgmt. & Energy Recovery Special Serv. Dist. v. U.S. Env’tl. Prot. Agency, 169 F.3d 755, 758 (D.C. Cir. 1999)). A 2015 decision established the hourly rate ranges for attorneys with different levels of experience who are entitled to the forum rate in the Vaccine Program. See McCulloch v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 09-293V, 2015 WL 5634323, at *19 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Sept. 1, 2015).

Petitioner requests the following rates for her attorneys, based on the years work was performed:

Attorney	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024
Ms. Laura Levenberg	--	--	$275.00	$350.00	$375.00	$400.00
Ms. Leigh Finfer	--	$200.00	--	--	--	--
Mr. Paul Brazil	--	$350.00	$375.00	--	--	--
Mr. Max Muller	--	--	--	$400.00	--	$450.00
Ms. Tereza Pavlacsek (Paralegal)	--	--	$160.00	$160.00	$177.00	$177.00
Mr. Erik Pavlacsek (Paralegal)	--	--	$125.00	$125.00	$140.00	$140.00
Ms. Katy Yoos (Paralegal)	--	--	--	$165.00	--	$165.00
Paralegals (Various)	$125.00	$125.00	$145.00	$145.00	--	--

Final Fees Motion at 6-17.

Ms. Levenberg practices in Dresher, PA—a jurisdiction that has been deemed “in forum.” Accordingly, she should be paid forum rates as established in McCulloch. See Long v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 20-1781V, 2023 WL 2053928 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Feb. 17, 2023). The rates requested for Ms. Levenberg and her colleagues are also consistent with what has previously been awarded, in accordance with the Office of Special Masters’ fee schedule.⁵ Hobbs v. Sec'y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 21-1442V, 2024 WL 2153439 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Apr. 9, 2024). I thus find no cause to reduce them in this instance. And I deem the time devoted to the matter to be reasonable. I will therefore award all fees requested without adjustment.

III. Calculation of Costs

Just as they are required to establish the reasonableness of requested fees, petitioners must also demonstrate that requested litigation costs are reasonable. Presault v. United States, 52 Fed. Cl. 667, 670 (2002); Perreira v. Sec’y of Dep’t of Health & Hum. Servs., 27 Fed. Cl. 29, 34 (1992). Reasonable costs include the costs of obtaining medical records and expert time incurred while working on a case. Fester v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No.10-243V, 2013 WL 5367670, at *16 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. Aug. 27, 2013). When petitioners fail to substantiate a cost item, such as by not providing appropriate documentation to explain the basis for a particular cost, special masters have refrained from paying the cost at issue. See, e.g., Gardner-Cook v. Sec’y of Health & Hum. Servs., No. 99-480V, 2005 WL 6122520, at *4 (Fed. Cl. Spec. Mstr. June 30, 2005).

Petitioner seeks $10,000.73 in outstanding costs, including the filing fee, medical record retrieval costs, and the work of one expert, Dr. John Hixson. Final Fees Mot. at 19. Dr. Hixson filed two reports in this case, and submitted two invoices reflecting a total of $3,875.00 (13.75 hours of work at a rate of $500.00 per hour, minus a $3,000.00 retainer). Id. at 31-33. All of these expenses are commonly incurred in the Vaccine Program, and are reasonable herein. All requested costs shall also be awarded.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, and in the exercise of the discretion afforded to me in determining the propriety of a final fees award, I GRANT Petitioner’s Motion for Attorney’s Fees and Costs in its entirety and award a total of $40,096.83, reflecting $30,096.10 in attorney’s fees and $10,000.73 in costs in the form of a check made jointly payable to Petitioner and her attorney Ms. Laura Levenberg.

In the absence of a motion for review filed pursuant to RCFC Appendix B, the Clerk of the Court SHALL ENTER JUDGMENT in accordance with the terms of this Decision.⁶

IT IS SO ORDERED.
