RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

On September 8, 2022, Mary Hay filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that she suffered an injury to her arm, as the result of an influenza (“flu”) vaccination received on October 28, 2020. See Petition at 1. Petitioner further alleges that she received the vaccine in the United States, that she suffered the residual effects of her injury for more than six months, and that there has been no prior award or settlement of a civil action on her behalf as a result of her injury. See Petition at ¶¶ 2, 7, 9, 11-12.

The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On October 6, 2023, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent's Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, Respondent states that DICP [Division of Injury Compensation Programs, Department of Health and Human Services] has concluded that petitioner's alleged injury is consistent with SIRVA as defined by the Vaccine Injury Table. Specifically, petitioner had no history of pain, inflammation, or dysfunction of her left shoulder prior to vaccination; pain occurred within 48 hours after receipt of an intramuscular vaccination; pain was limited to the shoulder in which the vaccine was administered; and no other condition or abnormality has been identified to explain petitioner's shoulder pain.

Id. at 4-5 (citing 42 C.F.R. §§ 100.3(a), 5 (c)(10)). Respondent further agrees that Petitioner has suffered the sequela of her injury for more than six months and satisfied all other legal requirements for compensation. Id. at 5.

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
