Filed: June 3, 2026

Ramon Rodriguez, III, Siri & Glimstad, LLP, Richmond, VA, for Petitioner.

RULING ON ENTITLEMENT<sup>1</sup>

On January 22, 2026, Hooman Enayati filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.<sup>2</sup> (the “Vaccine Act”). Petitioner alleges that his June 28, 2024 human papilloma virus (“HPV”) vaccination caused him to suffer a left shoulder injury related to vaccine administration (“SIRVA”), as defined in the Vaccine Injury Table, 42 C.F.R. § 100.3. Petition at 1. Petitioner further alleges that he received the vaccine in the United States, that he suffered the residual effects of his injury for more than six months, and that there has been no prior award or settlement of a civil action on his behalf as a result of his injury. See Petition at ¶¶ 3, 18-19. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On May 28, 2026, Respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that Petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent's Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, Respondent states that DICP [the Division of Injury Compensation Programs at the Department of Health and Human Services] has reviewed the petition and medical records filed in this case and has concluded that compensation is appropriate. DICP has concluded that petitioner's alleged injury is consistent with SIRVA as defined by the Vaccine Injury Table. Specifically, petitioner had no history of pain, inflammation, or dysfunction of his left shoulder prior to vaccination; shoulder pain occurred within forty-eight hours after receipt of an intramuscular HPV vaccination; shoulder pain and reduced range of motion were limited to the side in which the vaccine was administered; and no other condition or abnormality has been identified to explain petitioner's shoulder pain. 42 C.F.R. § 100.3(a)(XVI)(B), (c)(10). Additionally, based on the medical records outlined above, petitioner suffered the residual effects of his condition for more than six months. Therefore, based on the record as it now stands, petitioner has satisfied all legal prerequisites for compensation under the Act. See 42 U.S.C. § 300aa-11(c)(1)(D)(i), -13(a)(1)(B).

In view of Respondent's position and the evidence of record, I find that Petitioner is entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
